Reader,

I Am come again upon the publick Stage, to entertain thee with another Years diversion of Stellary Significations; tho' the Pains I have taken to do so, much exceeds the Reward I expect for it; for I have calculated the Planets places de novo, and added a Table of Houses, to make it serviceable to those that often erect Figures: I have also much enlarged the Tide Table for the service of the Coasting Sailor: and for the benefit of those that understand not the Characters of the Signs, I have set down the parts of the Body by them signify'd in words at length. 'Tis for the sake of the Junior, and genuine Sons of Art, I impose the Task upon me, and to let the World know, that tho' this Art be dwindled in its Repute, 'tis still as full and illustrious in its Truth, and as free from a Refute as ever: Those Dwarfish and Pigmy Prate-Roasts, that (now a days) Parrot-like prattle against it, being very unlikely to do more than ever the Giant-like Pedecessors could do; for when any of them venture to coin new Arguments, 'tis only such as betray the Weakness of the Mind they were minted in, and can only serve for Maukins to scare Fools, and encourage Wise Men in the pursuit of Knowledge: Let them cover their old Lerry, and Non-con themselves against us and our Art, we will still make it our delight to study the Heavens, and let the World see wherein they chiefly declare the Glory of God, and but in an especial manner the Sun, Moon, and Stars, praise their Maker, which they certainly do in a threefold manner, by their Creation, Preservation, and Operation; Creation by Omnipotent Power, Conservation by Infinite Wisdom, and Operation by Wonderful Harmony, which he that truly understands, pays to the Almighty a much more devout and learned Admiration, than he that admires them only for their Number, Light, and Twinkling: Known to God are all his Works, saith St. James; and God is known to Man by his Works and his Word, the Book of the Creature, and the Book of the Scripture. Let us study both, and in so doing we shall manifest our selves better Christians than those, that while they pretend to advance his Word, labour hard to debase his Works among the People.

The Tide-Table Describ'd and Explain'd.

Here you have a large and exact Tide-Table of all the most considerable Ports on the Coast of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland, Holland, France and Flanders, &c. Those Places at the head of the Table are all English, and those at the foot of the Table are most Outlandish: at both head and foot are the Points of the Compass the Moon is upon when she makes full Sea on the Change and Full Days; and right against the Moon's Age in the first Column is the Time of High water at every Port mentioned in the Table, either at the head or foot, minding but their respective Columns, and the Angle of meeting; and those that can say the Compass may (with a little Pains) know what Point the Moon must be upon every Day of her Age to make High-water at every Port contained in the Table.

E X A M P L E.

I desire to know the time of High water at any Port mentioned in the Table, in order to which I enter the Table of the Moon's Age the 1st day of January (the day I desire) and there I find the Moon 19 days old, with which number I also enter the Tide-Table, and in the little Column to the left hand I find the said number 19, and right against it, in the next Column, I find 5 h. 24 m. and over the head, London, Timmouth, Hartlepool, Whitby and Robin Hoods-Bay; also under them, at the Foot of the Table, I find in the same Column, Amsterdam, Nant Dundee, Lisbon, Denby, and Holy-Ho, which tells me that it is High water at those Ports 24 m. after 5 a Clock that Day; and that a North East and by North and a South-West and by South, Moon makes High-water at those Places the New and Full Days.

The Latitude of the Moon, High-winds and Land floods, will sometimes make the Tides a little deviate from the Table, but not so far as to influence the common use of it: The expert Mariner will know how to compute for that. But let us consider that there are two Tides in 24 Hours, therefore 'tis the first Tide we mean in the Table, to which if we add 24 min. we have the more exact time of the second Tide, for the Table is formed by the daily addition of 48 m. from the time of the New and Full Moon,

Thus we see the Tides dance after the Moon's Motion, and not the Moon after the Tides, as was lately most absurdly asserted in Saunders's Almanack: Some speculative Sparks would make us believe, that 'tis the Cars that drives the Horse, and not the Horse draws the Carr; but we are for Diogenes's solid Experimentum, and not for Zeno's foolish Demonstrations.

Zeno would pretend to give a Demonstration against Motion, whose simplicity to refuse. Diogenes starts off his Seat, and walks about the Room before our eyes, to let him know, 'tis ardent Experience, and not addle Notions, that confirms the Truth of Things: and yet these meer Speculators will tell us, Experience is but the Mystery of Fools: but we think the Reason why they would validate its Evidence is, because we should not take themselves for Fools, whereby if we find them to be so, that they may pass for Wise Men in a Mystery; and indeed 'tis a meer Mystery to us, that they should go for Wise Men among those that have no Experience of their Sagacity.

What many of England's Monarchs vainly sought,
Great Britain's Queen hath to Perfection brought:
Thames now with Tweed must in one Channel run,
 Kingdoms that long were Two, must now be One.
 Oh Mighty Anne! this will thy Name record
 In Fame's Records, to sound from Pole to Pole.

JANUARY, 1708.

Bi-fronted Janus now my Muse awakes :
 Assist (great Jove) what here she undertakes.
 Let no dark Clouds of Error clog my Pen,
 But please Urania's Learning-lovers : then,
 What black-mouth'd Momes rest-At, I shall not matter.
 Let Pisus prate, and Pigmy Pedants charter.

FEBRUARY, 1708.

The Sword and Gown last Month being much at odds,
Discord arose 'mongst hec'ring Demi-gods ;
Whom here such means appease as may produce
Some welcome tho' a short continu'd Truce ;
Which (till recruits his Camps have stronger made)
Makes Mars content to sheath his killing Blade.

MARCH 1703.

This is the pleasing time when with delight,
Bellona's Warlike Sons march forth to fight.
 But Heav'n's harmonious Host so well accords,
 Few martial beams this peaceful Month affords.
 Both Lights eclips'd scarce either shall we see,
 Let Britains Foes tell wha th' Effects will be.

Blood-thirsty Mavors with great Rage displays,
'Gainst poor distressed Jove his furious Rays.
Seditious discontented Spirits rail;
Still ruptures 'mong Religionists prevail.
The two Malignants quarrel, yet agree,
To wound great Females by base Treachery.

Religion's Patron now's become Direct
Whom princely Pæan greets with great respect
Chronus to Mars too, flatt'ring smiles doth send ;
Yet let's not on false hopes too much depend.
But in great Calms for greater Storms prepare :
Wisdom's grand admonition is, Beware

Truening and trear- ing seems to be the discourse for a little time, but next month will read us a much different Lecture. Some bright and splendid mornings vanish soon, Leaving behind a dismal afternoon.

Now comes the cause, th' effect e're long you'll know.
 Nature in her due time the same will show
 See here the two Superiours Quartile Rays
 Miserie invade poor Mortals different ways.
 Bright Sol on thund'ring Phaeton looks asquint,
 And scribbling Hermes puts it all in print

Yet, yet more Mischief still transacted, and Kingdoms, States, Empires in Confusion stand !
France, Flanders, Spain, some parts of Germany.
In those Misfortunes seem concern'd to be.
London, beware of Fires, and Beasts of Prey,
And something else, but what, I will not say.

AUGUST, 1708.

Chronus this Month the flow-pac'd Crab salutes;
 And his rebellious Mate e're long disputes.
 That consultation past, turns Retrograde;
 Resolves once more th' resembling Twins t'invade.
 Those places under Cancer, Scotland's one,
 Found once jst Cause such Influence to bemoan.

Here 'tis the treacherous Lies together met,
 Tumultuous Fars, and Civil Broils beget;
 By such poor Snakes as our own bosoms bred,
 Which (being all Tail) want brains to make a Head,
 For they their Plots shall unsuccessful find,
 Tending to's Good whole Ruin they design'd.

OCTOBER, 1708.

What ails the Starch fac'd Zealot, he complains,
 And with such grief, reflects on former Reigns !
 Oh ! things were cheap then, 'twas a goodly mony
 When he had four and twenty Eggs a Penny.
 But sure they are them stale for want of Wit,

NOVEMBER, 1708.

This Month the Papists stain'd with such a Blot,
 As will not for some Ages be forgot.
 But e'er they could ascend to their desire,
 Just when they were to mount but one step higher,
 (Let Heaven be honour'd for't) down tumbld all;
 And gave these Ministers a deserved Fall.

DECEMBER, 1708.

Now Soth's swift Steeds their yearly course have run
And I this tedious Twelve-months Task have done
So long it shall not be, unless the Times
And Fortune frown on these my homely Rhimes,
E're I'll again Urania's Court survey,
And next Years Actions to the World display.

The Heavens in this Month presignifie much detriment to Persons of a superiour rank, such as are distinguished by Titles of Honour; some suffer by displeasure of their Prince, or principal Commanders, and Princes are made uneasy by the treachery and importunities of their Subjects. Towards the end of the Year we have a Trine of the two Superiour Planets whose effects will be spent in the succeeding Year in healing of breaches and composing Divisions, in order to beat Swords into Plowshares, and Spears into Pruning Hooks.

Peace is the best of things, well understood,
 But Discord's better, while that Peace not good.
 For I'm not of his Humour who did prefer,
 The unjustest Peace before the justest War.

Judicium Astrologicum :

O R,

An Astrological Judgment on the Year 1708.

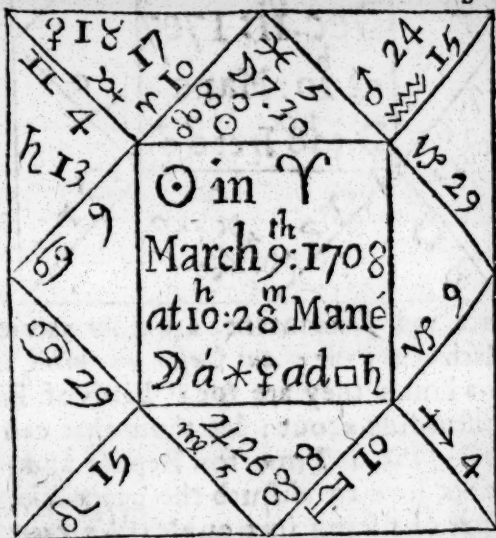

That which is most worthy Observation at this Brumal Ingress is the Opposition of the two Infortunes from Gemini and Sagittary, and the Sun, Venus, and Mercury, in Capricorn, in Square to Jupiter, in Libra; also the Moon hastning to the Opposition of Saturn and Conjunction of Mars. The Sons of Violence and Discontent, are now as violently intent upon Mischief as ever; Aut Caesar, aut nihil, is their Lerry, a Prize or a Prison they are for: Birds of Prey will be sculking and scudding about; let those that can escape their Talons, do it: 'Tis a Time for Repose and Quiet; but restless Spirits love to disturb the peaceable, and be at their old Trade of fishing in troubled Waters. Happy are all we that live free from the Fear of Armies, or armed Men, that dread not the sound of Drums and Trumpets, nor are frighted with the neighing of prancing Steeds, and other Noises of War: 'Tis true, this is not a seasonable Time for such Things, but Necessity and Opportunity, can make Soldiers dispence with Times and Seasons; beside, it's usually a time made use of for surprizing, padding, and rappareeing. The Moon afflicted by both the Infortunes, denotes it to be a sickly and troublesome Winter; much Sorrow and Sadness will attend the common People in several Countries, Agues and Fevers molest many. Spain in an uproar and confusion. Hungary, tumultuous and troublesome. France, at her ne plus ultra. Flanders, sickly and uneasy. London, God blefs from Fires, Fevers, and Faction. Venus and Mercury sub radiis, and Titan in Square to Jove, denotes some pert Consultations and malapert Resolutions.

lutions, calling Clerks and Trustees to an Account; making new Laws, and new-moulding old; turning out old Favourites, and taking in new. I think the Moon cannot be much more afflicted at any Ingress than she is here, which will detriment Sea Affairs much; therefore to hear of foul Weather, Shipwracks and Mischief done by Storms and Tempests, and in some Places by the dearth and scarcity of Provisions, and the Severity and ill Usage many will meet with, need not be much wonder'd at, if our Faith-founder'd Antagonists would but believe the Harmony that is between Cœlestial and Terrestrial Beings.

IN this Vernal Figure, we have the Luminaries angular, and the Infortunes cadent, Jove in Imum Cœli, and Venus in the 11th. Let us hope well, and that's one way to make things easy: Jove in the 4th. signifies good to the Fruits of the Earth, and Success to the Workers in Pits and Mines for Coals, Tin, or Lead: Luna, Lady of the Asc. in the 10th, and in Square to Saturn, Lord of the 7th, in the 12th bodes Arrests and Imprisonments in the Civil State: In the Army and Fleet it signifies Re-encounters, Surprisals and Reprisals: The Sun in the 10th, entering his Exaltation, makes Princes more illustrious, and Grandees more great: The Moon in the 10th in Pisces, signifies good to our Fishery, but being in Square to Saturn, Lord of the 7th. they must beware of sculking Privateers: Mars in the 9th, in a fixed Sign, makes Voyages and long Journeys more tedious and full of danger than usual.

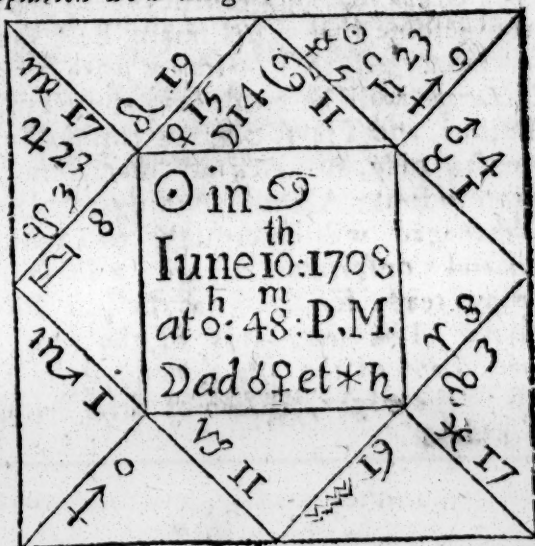

'Tis a main Encouragement we meet with, to write Predictions, if we do but consider the Gentility of our null-a-file-Men towards us: If we hit the White, we are Witches or Wizards, saith Momus; if miss it, then impudent Lions, saith Zeilus: If we predict Rain, and it fall not down every Chimney-Corner, we are either laugh'd at or vilify'd on the Year 1708.

fy'd by the Scape-Goat of that Dormitory : If we predict War and Trouble to those that think they have got a Quietus est, and have nothing to do but sing Lullaby's ; then have we them about our Ears like Wasps or Hornets, ready to sting us to Death for giving them such Disturbance : If we don't take notice of every thing that happens, then they'll affirm we know Nothing, tho' they ought to be satisfy'd, if what we do predict come to pass ; for Multi multa sciunt sed nemo omnia, is a good old Motto. Many know much, but none, all things ; nor do we pretend to know every thing in specie, for our great Masters in Art have taught us this great Lesson, Nemo particularia predicit, None can foresee every particular Action and Accident : No, Omniscience is one of God's great Attributes, and therefore far out of the reach of Mortality ; but to argue from hence that Mortals know nothing, is altogether as absurd, as to affirm that the Eye has no Power to see, because we can't discern Things in the Dark ; or that Light has no Power to illuminate, because we may wink and shut it out, therefore, tho' God that made the Stars, can annihilate their Influence, and make void our Predictions : Yet while he upholds the Frame of Nature, and allows them their Motions, they'll still influe., and while he vouchsafes us our Reason, we may from Observation of their Motions and Influence, make Predictions.

Let Envy burst, and Ignorance work its spite,
The Stars will still influe, and shine most bright,
And in their Contemplation we'll delight.

This Æstival Ingress will be well worth notice, being attended with a perfect Square of the two Superiour, Planets from Gemini and Virgo ; the Sun and Mercury having been lately in Conjunction with Saturn, and in Square to Jupiter. We do not take any pleasure in grating Peoples Ears with misfor.

tunes; but we cannot help it; we neither make them, nor can we tell how to prevent them. nor do we expect any thanks for foretelling them: I hate this Micaiah (said Ahab) he never Prophecies good of me; but the Reason was, there was no good towards him, and the Prophet was not to sooth him; so let an Artist but make the Stars speak Butter and Honey to one Party, and nothing but Clubs and Daggers to their Enemies, he'll be sure to please the one, tho' he displease the other; therefore its the fairest way for him to deal plainly, and deliver nothing but what he can well deduce from Art; tho' this is not the safest way for him; he must beware of falling under the Lash of Authority, and what he speaks of some Persons and some Things, must be very Ænigmatically spoken. But à diverticulo in viam, let's to our Text again. Never doth there come a Conjunction, Opposition, or Square of the Superiour Planets without superiour Actions and Accidents attending and succeeding the same; let the Enemies to Art bawl themselves into an Asthma, or have as many returns as they will of their old Disease (a Risus Sardonicus) laugh at our Art, while we smile at their Ignorance: Here's Imprisonment of Grandees threatned, whether it may proceed from a Battle, or a Plot, or a Persecution, let Time determine; indeed we fear many will suffer much upon the Account of Religion, that live under the Laws and Government of Popish Princes, Imprisonment, Exiles, and Slavery, is like to be the Fate of many. Voyages by Sea and long Journeys will prove more tedious and troublesome than usual. many Losses and Crosses like to befall them. All the Planets are supra terram at this Ingress; all Europe will be made acquainted with the Accidents, Actions and Transactions of this Summer; indeed no play like fair play, no Act like that done above board, be it never so foul: All hidden things, tho' never so Clandestinely managed, will be brought to Light, then let all Plotters and Conspirators beware; a Prison an Ax, and a Halter lays ready for them, as the just Reward of their Demerits. The Moon, Lady of the 10th, in Conjunction with Venus, Lady of the Ascend bodes much Honour and Happiness to the mighty Queen of Great Britain, and the Hogens of Holland.

Here

on the Year 1708.

Here in this Autumnal Ingress we have a Conjunction of Saturn and Mars (the two Malignants) in Cancer the Detriment of the one, and Fall of the other; in the Tenth House of Heaven, the Angle of Honour and Grandeur, both striving for Sovereignty and Government: They are rough Rivals, and always make ruffling work on't, come where they will, which the Grandees of State will find, for they both Square the Sun. Deposing and Usurping is now become a Trade, and State-Merchants get well enough by it; a new grand Seignior, a new Vizier, or a new Musti may make the Prediction good.

Is the Czar of Muscovy grown mighty? Tempora Mutantur; he will not always be so. Carolus Rex Sueciae is the David that will stop the Rapidity of his impetuous Torrent: He came to Christian Courts to learn the Art of War, but they did not expect that he should first Exercise his new Skill against Christian Princes, as he has done against the Swed; but it may not be long e'er the Turk or Tartar take a turn with him, and strain his great Strength; or else the Poles that are now his great Friends, may become his great Enemies, as well as the Sweeds, whose Courage and Conduct will scarcely be baff'd by his numerous Train Constantinople Tumultuous; Venice not much longer Neuter, she will be rous'd from her Lethargy and Supineness; Holland and Zeeland take heed of Inundations and Tempests; Russia, what now? the Tables are turn'd, the Invader Invaded. Scotland or North-Britain, which must I call thee? If Troubles and Disasters come, bear them with Courage and be Loyal. Saturn and Mars both Invade the Crab, and having made a Conjunction, Saturn stays not long there, but returns again into the Twins, but Mars makes a long transit on't: Routs, Rumours, and Pectoral Diseases molest many People, especially the Inhabitants bitants of those places. The Coniunction of Saturn and Mars in Cancer hath ever been noted for an Ominous and Unlucky Congress, stimulating rigid and violent Commotions, many cruel and crafty Actions, tragical and sudden Accidents Ir-ruption of Sea-banks, and sudden Insurrections; Shipwrecks and other Marine Misfortunes: Clubs, Cabals, and corrosive Resolutions; some Places disturb'd at the heavy Taxes and Contributions impos'd upon them, others are Plun-dered and Confiscated.

Of the Eclipses in this Year.

FOUR times will the Inhabitants of this Terrestrial Globe, be deprived of the Light of the Sun and Moon in this Year 1708, viz. twice of each.

The first will be an Eclipse of the Sun on the 11th of March, near 7 in the Morning, Invisible to us, but in the more Southern Parts of the World 'twill be a great Eclipse.

The second will be an Eclipse of the Moon on the 25th of March, about 6 in the Morning. She will be above half Eclipsed, but not much Visible to us, by reason the Sun will rise before the middle of the Deliquium be past.

The third will be an Eclipse of the Sun on the 3d of September, about 9 in the Morning, in 21 Degrees, 23 Min. of Virgo; 'twill be but a small Eclipse viz. 4 Digits 25 Min. darkned) but if the Air be clear, will be conspicuous here in England; 'tis the North Part of the Sun's Body that loseth Light.

The fourth and last will be an Eclipse of the Moon, on the 18th of September, near 9 a Clock at Night, at which time the Moon will be almost half Eclipsed, (viz. 5 Digits, 13 Minutes) and if Clouds interpose not, will also be visible to us.

The Conclusion.

And now (my little Back) take Wings and fly
Into the World, with this thy new Supply;
If any curious Critick should mistake
Thy plain familiar Meaning; and so make Thee subject to their Envy and Despite,
As much displeasing their nice Appetite.
Tell such, If thou to please them hadst intended,
Thy tedious Task would never then have ended;
For 'tis more ease to count the Stars i' th' Sky,
Or with a Nut-shell lave the Ocean dry,
Than to appear upon the publick Stage,
And please the carking Zoilli of our Age.
But where thou find'st one that mean Slips can cover,
A true Meccenas, and a Learning-lover;
Whose better Skill can sound the depth of Art,
Wish him all Good, wish't freely from thy Heart;
Tell him thou'lt always use thy utmost Skill,
To serve, oblige, and gratifie his Will.

THERE is preparing for the Press, and design'd to be made publick by the Author hereof, A small Treatise entitled, FLAGELLUM PLACIDIANUM; or, A Whip for Placidianism; wherein is detected and d-servedly retorted the notorious Absurdities and scandalous Invectives made by Mr. Whalley (on his Translation of Ptolemy's Quadripartite and his Treatise of Eclipses) against the laudable and genuine Astrology; in his pragmatical Epistles to his Reader, his ridiculous Annotations, and his scurrilous Reflections on the Doctrine of Horary Questions.
